

The Girdle of Truth

Publisher's Note

The Girdle of Truth was edited by W. H. Dorman and was issued in nine bound volumes from 1856 - 1865. It is now reprinted for the first time, but in one volume. The text was scanned as image files so that the original is preserved in its pagination. A general Subject Index and a general Scripture Index has been prepared for this edition and is found at the rear of this volume.

In the April 1, 1856 edition of The Bible Treasury (vol. 1, p. 181), edited by W. Kelly, the following commendation of The Girdle of Truth appeared:

The Girdle of Truth. Vol. I. London: T. H. Gregg, 24, Warwick Lane, Paternoster Row. 1856.

It is probable that not a few of our readers have never seen this little volume, which has hitherto appeared also in monthly numbers. We can assure them that they will not readily find another such choice collection of pungent gospel appeals, and of profoundly interesting and profitable expositions of scripture. Christians who desire to make progress, and to walk thoroughly with God, will not fail to appreciate the work. The remarks on some of the chapters of the Romans will repay, not reading only, but spiritual study; and they are the more to be prized, because anything like a proper insight into their scope cannot be had without diligent search into the scriptures themselves. The same thing is true of the papers on "The Whole Armour of God" (Eph. 6) and on 2 Cor. 3 – subjects rarely well understood. As a whole we are heartily thankful for such a publication, and for the prospect of its continuance.
